U.S. Fleet Moves Toward Jordan as Crisis Mounts

By WALTER LOGAN
UP Staff Correspondent

The powerful U.S. Sixth Fleet moved into the war-threatened eastern Mediterranean today on urgent pre-drawn orders from Washington.

The super-carrier Forrestal, with the latest jet aircraft aboard, headed the fleet units which topped anchor in French and Italian ports so suddenly that some men on shore leave were left behind.

Washington diplomatic sources described the move as "precautionary" but they left no doubt of the gravity with which officials regarded the power struggle raging inside Jordan and the possibility it could engulf the whole Middle East in war.

As young King Hussein struggled to preserve his government against a leftist-led revolt, here were the day's major developments:

- Premier Hussein Khalidi, a moderate, bowed to leftist threats and violence and resigned.
- King Hussein called on former Premier Ibrahim Hashem, a firm friend of the West, to form a new government.

L. R. Warned to Buy Auto Tags

LITTLE ROCK, (UP) — Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney issued a stern warning yesterday to the city of Little Rock.

He said the city is subject to severe penalties if it refuses to pay the sales tax and buy state licenses for 20 police cars purchased in March.

Mayor Woodrow Mann ordered the city to withhold payment. He said the city should not have to pay a sales tax, and asked City Attorney C. D. Longstreth for an opinion.

Cheney said the law is specific, and other cities pay without protest.

Canadians Worry Over Poland Deal

WASHINGTON (UP) — American officials negotiating an aid agreement with Poland are trying also to reassure Canada that the deal won't cut into Canadian wheat sales.

Officials said today they are hopeful they can sign an agreement by mid-May with Polish negotiators who have been in Washington since February.

The Poles came in response to the Eisenhower administration's invitation. The administration offered to lend economic aid to any country, such as Poland, which has managed to ease the yoke of Moscow domination.

The United States has offered to provide 105 million dollars in U. S. aid, officials said. This would include 30 million dollars in loans for such things as mining machinery and farm implements from President Eisenhower's special contingency fund, and 75 million dollars worth of surplus farm goods.

Important to Detect Cancer in Early Stage

Very few people realize how their money donated in nationwide drive for cancer is spent, workers carrying out the local campaign now in progress said today.

The largest amount, 27 percent, is spent on public education making the public conscious of cancer symptoms. Cancer can be cured if it receives attention in early stages.

Locally films on cancer have been shown in high schools and at PTA meetings. And textbooks pointing out the "danger signals" have been placed in schools.

Of your dollar 25 per cent is spent on research, 15 per cent on national education and grants, four per cent on professional education, 19 per cent service patients, four per cent administration and six per cent for April campaigns.

Send your contribution to Jim Cole, drive chairman, and help stamp out one of the nation's biggest killers.

Suggestions on How to Handle the Party Pests

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (UP) — You met at least one at every cocktail party. I mean the pest, the man who suddenly wheels through the smoke fog, halts before you, thrusts his face to within an inch of your nose tip, and then, fixing you with his glittering eyes, demands loudly: "Remember me?"

And I also mean the female of the species, the wandering lady gypsy moth who flutters up at everybody at the party, and makes a parlor game of coming to each.

"Remember me?"

What should a fellow who loves his fellow men in most circumstances do in this situation? The chances are that he can't tell the strange man from John Foster Dulles. And who, on fronted unexpectedly by a strange, Martin-burdened lady, can immediately recall her name, which is probably something like Ramona Schmiedeleffenglosser?

The unfair thing is that it is the one questioned, not the ques-

Ike Asks Laws to Eliminate Labor Rackets

By MERRIMAN SMITH

AUGUSTA, Ga., (UP) — President Eisenhower, after a conference here with Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, called on Congress today for new legislation to eliminate labor racketeering.

The President called racketeering in the labor movement "an abomination which must be eliminated."

"We don't want to do anything that will hamper the American labor movement in its legitimate objective," Mitchell said after talking with the President.

"But we do want to help labor clean up its own house," Mitchell added.

The secretary's conference with the President on new anti-racketeering legislation stemmed from recent Senate investigating committee disclosures involving Dave Beck and his International Teamsters Union.

Eisenhower, in a special statement following his meeting with Mitchell, said, "labor racketeering, like corruption anywhere, is an abomination which must be eliminated if and whenever it occurs."

"Any officer and employee of labor — and it appears there have been a few — who abuse the power and trust imposed on them are not fit to hold union offices," the President said. "The American working man and woman deserve freedom from labor leadership high standards of trust and fidelity."

The President said that corruption "on the part of a few should not obscure the fact that the vast majority of those connected with organized labor are decent and honest Americans and that responsible labor leadership is moving steadily toward protecting their members from any such abuses, as far as their means permit."

Mitchell, in a press conference after his talk with the President, said he thought the Taft-Hartley labor-management law was a deficient in the protection of the worker or union member. He said he was commissioned by the chief executive to draft a new administrative approach to laws requiring public record of salaries paid to union officials, the condition of their treasuries and the administration of these funds.

Mitchell told reporters that the administration shortly will ask Congress to pass a law giving the executive branch of government the authority to look over union funds and make them public. The secretary said the President approved this recommendation, and Congress, too, should not be pushed "headlong" and "impelled" by the hysteria of the moment to pass punitive labor legislation.

Disaster forces were being mobilized to handle serious floods.

Several hundred persons living in South San Marcos, 20 miles south of Austin, evacuated homes last night and early today as the Blanco River rose threateningly. The water was only two feet below U. S. Highway 281 across the river.

Gov. Price Daniel authorized National Guard troops for emergency duty if they are needed to aid flood-stricken Belton and Kilgus, south and west of Waeco. Hundreds of persons were evacuated in those areas late last night. Killen had more than 6.5 inches of rain.

The Weather Bureau lifted a tornado and severe weather alert, but scattered thunderstorms were expected again today in east Texas.

The heavy rains in the past six days had already pushed many streams near flood stages and many spilled over after yesterday's downpours.

Little Nolan and Big Nolan creeks surged into the southern and eastern part of Killen last night. Floodwaters 10 feet deep gushed through the streets for a time.

Storm Tosses 9 Whales Ashore

CAPE HENRY, Va., (UP) — Nine small whales were tossed ashore Monday by a brisk northeast storm. Lt. N. H. Jongebloed, of nearby Ft. Story, was ordered to "get them back to sea before they die."

Jongebloed and his men attached lines to the tails of the whales and hauled them back into the water.

When the soldiers returned to the beach, there to greet them were nine small whales.

Nearly half a dozen times, the soldiers repeated the performance and only on the last go-round did success seem to be within their grasp.

A check of the beach yesterday revealed it was only a partial victory. Seven whales were gone but two had perished above the tide.

Corning Man Jailed After Shooting

CORNING, (UP) — Joseph W. Davis, 46, of Knobel, faced assault charges here today after a shooting yesterday in which no one was injured.

Police said Davis and J. D. Walker, 61, had an argument and fist fight over dust from Davis' sawmill blowing onto Walker's property.

Walker told police Davis went home after the fight and returned with a .38 caliber pistol. He said he was sitting in his car and Davis fired four times at him.

Walker drove here to report the incident. A short time later Davis arrived at the sheriff's office and saved himself up.

Shoe Firm Locates at Leachville

LITTLE ROCK, (UP) — State Sen. Lee Bearden of Leachville said here today that the Brown Shoe Co. of St. Louis tentatively plans construction of a factory at Leachville this summer.

Bearden said placing of the plant at Leachville is contingent on purchase of $200,000 in bonds to help finance the project. Of the total, $128,000 already has been subscribed, he said.

The proposed plant eventually will have an annual payroll of about $1,500,000 and employ about 600 persons, Bearden said.

Bearden is president of the Leachville Industrial Development Corp., which has been backing the proposed factory.

Brown operates Arkansas plants at Piggott and Pochonotas.

Flood Waters Are Tapering Off in Texas

DALLAS (UP) — Surging rivers and creeks, driven out of their banks by six days of torrential rains, flooded parts of Texas today, but the cloudbursts that drenched portions of the state yesterday began tapering off.

Tornadoes, thunderstorms and winds of hurricane force battered the state yesterday. The cloudbursts drove already swollen rivers and streams out of their banks in central Texas, flooding parts of several towns and highways. At least five persons were reported drowned.

Disaster forces were being mobilized to handle serious floods.

Several hundred persons living in South San Marcos, 20 miles south of Austin, evacuated homes last night and early today as the Blanco River rose threateningly. The water was only two feet below U. S. Highway 281 across the river.

Ike Concerned Over Crisis in Jordan

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
AUGUSTA, Ga., (UP) — President Eisenhower kept a close watch today on the crisis in the Jordan government after moving to bolster young King Hussein's shaky regime against collapse and possible Communist control.

The President, mixing work and vacation at the Augusta National Golf Club, discussed the tense situation by telephone with Secretary of State Dulles yesterday.

Afterwards, they put out a statement saying they regard "the independence and integrity of Jordan as vital" to U. S. interest and would peace.

It was at once a warning against any Communist aggression in Jordan and a seeming invitation to that small Mideast nation to ask for American aid.

On the latter count, White House press Secretary James C. Hagerty took pains to indicate that the cloth cut when Congress recently approved Eisenhower's anti-Communist Middle East resolution could well fit the Jordan situation.

That resolution provides for granting U. S. military and economic aid to any Communist-threatened Mideast nation which asks for it. One section of the resolution, Hagerty volunteered, says:

Little Damage, Lots of Rain in Arkansas

By The Associated Press

A 3 1/2-hour tornado and severe thunderstorm alert for north central and south central Arkansas was lifted last night with only minor damage from high winds reported in one area.

A Jonesboro police officer said he encountered what he thought might have been a twister, an unidentified Delta Airlines pilot said he saw a tornado funnel near Sheridan, and a Pine Bluff newspaper reported seeing a twister roar past that city.

Police Lt. Vernon Walker of Jonesboro said a sudden high wind "almost blew my car off the road" while he was patrolling U. S. Highway 61 near Nettleton late last night.

He said he thought it may have been "a little tornado" but added that he saw no funnel.

Winds tore off part of the roof of the J. A. Riggs Tractor Co. and damaged a soft drink stand at Jonesboro. A number of tree limbs were knocked down, and several power lines were broken in the northeast Arkansas city.

There was no word of any casualties.

Rain, lightning and strong winds were reported in the alert area.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock said no twister sightings were confirmed officially.

The severe weather warning was issued about 8:30 p. m., when a "broken line of thunderstorms started sweeping across Arkansas. The alert zone extended 75 miles east of a line running from a point 45 miles southwest of El Dorado, Ark., to a point 30 miles east of Springfield, Mo. The warning was lifted at midnight.

Sheriff Ray Childers of Sheridan said late last night that he had heard nothing of a twister being seen in the Sheridan area.

Bobby Jones, namesman at Radio Station KOTN at Pine Bluff, said "a large black funnel" roared past the southwest edge of the city shortly after 10 p. m.

Jones said he heard a sound "like one continuous roar of thunder" and then saw the twister outlined by flashes of lightning. "It looked 400 or 500 feet high," he said.

Other residents in Pine Bluff also reported seeing or hearing the twister as it churned in a northwesterly direction, he said. No one reported seeing it touch the ground.

The Weather Bureau discounted several reports that a tornado had been seen at Little Rock.

A spokesman commented: "It's awfully easy to think you see one at night."

Earlier yesterday, heavy rains fell at many points in Arkansas.

Today's forecast called for scattered showers and thunderstorms with no important temperature changes.

Maximum temperatures yesterday included 84 degrees at Phipps and Pine Bluff, 83 at Walnut Ridge, 82 at Little Rock and 81 at Blytheville.

Hope Residents Favor City Manager Plan by Decisive 3 to 1 Majority

Hope Woman Shot in Legs; Not Critical

A Hope woman is recuperating from gunshot wounds in both legs in a Prescott hospital today following a fracas in the Salem community of Nevada county late yesterday. Her condition is not considered critical.

Sheriff Horace Hale of Prescott said Mrs. Fern Houston of Hope was shot in both legs. He said the incident was the result of a family quarrel which involved her husband, Howard, and a son William C. Houston.

Sheriff Hale said Mrs. Houston told him that her husband and son were fighting and that she accidentally shot herself while trying to separate them. Sheriff Hale said Mrs. Houston told him she picked the gun up off the ground and that he didn't actually know who had it at the start.

The Sheriff said the younger Houston was arrested and charged with drunkenness. He was released on bond, today. The Sheriff indicated he hadn't completed his investigation.

The incident occurred at a home in the Salem area which the family owns.

Cites Coming Prosperity in Arkansas

ARKADELPHIA (UP) — Arkansas is on its way to becoming one of the most prosperous states in the union, Gov. Orval E. Faubus predicted yesterday at groundbreaking ceremonies for a $3,500,000 building materials plant.

Faubus was one of the feature speakers at the ceremonies launching construction of the Teetum Corp. plant, which will manufacture building materials from pine fibre.

More than 500 persons attended the ceremony at Haygood field on the campus of Henderson State College. The program was moved there because of wet grounds at the 40-acre plant site, immediately south of town on Highway 67.

However, a bucketful of dirt from the site was brought to the ceremony and Faubus, Arkadelphia Mayor Ben D. Gray and D. E. Kramer of the Teetum Corp., all took turns lifting a shovelful of the earth for the benefit of photographers and to officially "break ground."

The program followed a parade through the business district. Bands from several nearby high school and ROTC units from Henderson State and Ouachita Baptist College took part.

Directors Vote Can't Be Held Within 90 Days

By a margin of 3 to 1 Hope residents yesterday voted to change from the mayor-council system of government to the directors-city manager plan. The majority was 490 votes.

The vote was 735 for and 245 against.

The measure carried by a big majority in every ward except Ward 4. The returns started coming in early and the official count was completed by 7:15 p. m. The vote by wards:

Absentee	For	Against
Ward 1	203	33
Ward 2	96	17
Ward 3	199	39
Ward 4	61	31
Ward 5	90	30
Ward 6	82	95

Totals: 735 For, 245 Against.

Thus this city was the first under a new Arkansas law to vote in favor of a city manager.

The campaign was one-sided until the final day when opponents chose to keep in the background generally distributed unsigned pamphlets house-to-house. Any unsigned matter pertaining to politics is against the Arkansas law.

Questioned in connection with the pamphlet distribution was Jesse L. Brown, Hope mayor. Deputy Prosecuting Attorney C. V. Nunn Jr. said that he personally questioned Brown about the pamphlets and that an investigation of the incident continues. However, no charges have been filed nor has an arrest been made.

Following yesterday's decisive vote Mayor H. M. Olsen who voluntarily called the city manager election indicated today that he would release his plans later. In his proclamation calling the first election the Mayor indicated he would call the board of directors election in time for the new system to go into effect January 1.

The law requires a 30-day waiting period during which time the official count in yesterday's election must be certified to the Mayor. He then can call the election in which a 7-man board will be voted on by the people. After certification an election can't be held in less than 60 days. So the city manager setup couldn't go into effect in less than 90 days from today.

From the outset Mayor Olsen has indicated his willingness to give the people what they want.

Storm Tosses 9 Whales Ashore

CAPE HENRY, Va., (UP) — Nine small whales were tossed ashore Monday by a brisk northeast storm. Lt. N. H. Jongebloed, of nearby Ft. Story, was ordered to "get them back to sea before they die."

Jongebloed and his men attached lines to the tails of the whales and hauled them back into the water.

When the soldiers returned to the beach, there to greet them were nine small whales.

Nearly half a dozen times, the soldiers repeated the performance and only on the last go-round did success seem to be within their grasp.

A check of the beach yesterday revealed it was only a partial victory. Seven whales were gone but two had perished above the tide.

Doctors Urged to Use UA Med Center

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — Arkansas physicians were urged today to affiliate with the World Medical Association, to which only 15 of the state's doctors now belong.

Dr. R. B. Robins of Camden, one of the founders of the 10-year-old international organization, told the Arkansas Medical Society that the WMA is "the voice of physicians of the world."

The speaker said that WMA gives doctors a "stronger voice before such organizations as the United Nations, the World Health Organization and the International Social Security Association," which all have an interest in health.

"The World Health Organization, the U. S. Public Health Service and the State Health Department are all tax-supported bodies while the county, state, American and World Medical Associations are groups supported by the doctors," Dr. Robins said.

A report of the AMS Legislative Committee, submitted late yesterday, recommended that the "state society and the American Medical Association being the standards of osteopathy up to our equal and become apart of our own profession."

Osteopaths should not be permitted to "practice medicine and surgery in competition with" medical doctors until "they reach that point in their training that they can become members of our own society and thereby eliminate osteopathy as a teaching institution," the report said.

Dr. Joe Shuffield of Little Rock is chairman of the Legislative Committee.

Potatoes are not fattening, so says Virginia Wilson, nutritionist of the North Carolina State College school of Agriculture. That is, if you eat them without added fat.

Latest Words in Martin, Lewis Feud

By BOB THIMAS

HOLLYWOOD — This could be the last word in the Martin and Lewis feud. But it's doubtful.

We thought the end was finished several months ago when the comedy pair broke up amid forced smiles and mild mutterings. Then both took to the prints. Jerry Lewis penned a magazine article in which he bemoaned his life with Dean Martin countered with a magazine article blasting back at his onetime pal.

So where's it going to end? I put the question to Jerry, who reported to lunch in his "Sad Sack" uniform.

"As far as I'm concerned, it's all over," he said with serious face. "I wrote one article and that is all. The only thing I can say now is that I wish Dean nothing but the best."

Will they ever appear together again?

"Will the earthquake be coming again soon? Will it snow in northern Idaho next week?" he replied evasively.

I would accept none of this fancy footwork and pinned him down to the question again. "I doubt very much if we will ever appear together again," he said finally.

What about his film contract with Hal Wallis, which calls for their appearances together? He commented only that his dealings with Wallis have worked out very smoothly. Since Jerry is doing a single in "Sad Sack" for Wallis, the producer appears to have given up his hope to re-team the boys.

Jerry added that it wouldn't

Miniature arrangements were brought for judging and Mrs. Harold Brenks' arrangement was awarded first place.

The hostesses served a dessert plate and coffee to 15 members.

make sense. "Any two comics could have done what we did," he reasoned.

"All they had to do was tell the jokes. What made the act great was the relationship between the two men. When that relationship is gone the act is gone."

"Besides, Dean doesn't want it. Why should he invite all that trouble again? This way, he can play golf every morning."

He added that his good wishes for the crooner were sincere. "I want him to be the greatest," he said. "I can only reflect credit on me if he is."

Says Americans Neglect Children

By HERMAN ALLEN
PITTSBURGH — An educator said today that America has been neglecting its gifted children for so long that it is beginning to run short of leaders.

"Already," said William M. Cruickshank of Syracuse University, "we are having difficulty finding good senators and representatives."

"We have a desperate need for leaders, not only in politics and the military, but leaders in the laboratory, in literature in all fields."

"We have put so much emphasis on 'normality' that we are beginning to feel the results. At this point it's almost a matter of put up or shut up."

Cruickshank, professor of education and psychology at Syracuse, and a group of others attending the convention of the International Council for Exceptional Children were interviewed on problems connected with gifted children.

DOROTHY DIX

Wants No Part of Wife's Relatives

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband died when my son was a year old. Ever since I have worked hard to provide a home for the boy and my father. My son is now in service.

Six months ago I married, after promises that my dad and son would always have a home with us. It didn't take long for the tune to change.

Now my husband grows if Dad comes to see us once a month and I have been told that my son had better find a home elsewhere when he comes out of service next year.

I work, so it isn't a question of money. My husband simply does not want any of my people around, nor does he want to visit them.

He drinks quite a bit, but I don't fuss over it. I'm an easy-going person, prepared to take things as they come.

Dear Flora: Acceptance of things as they come can be an admirable quality at times, but all too often it just signifies a jellyfish.

For the satisfaction of one man's selfish egotism, you're making three people miserable — your father, your son and yourself. From being the essential person to two people, you have become merely a convenience to one.

If you had a good husband, or at least a good-natured one, he might be worth a sacrifice or two. A surly, bossy drinker, however, rates no consideration whatever.

How about you making a few demands, and laying down the law before it's too late?

Dear Dorothy Dix: I want to be a singer of popular songs but can't afford voice lessons. I've been told my voice is good, but how can I prove it? There aren't any amateur or talent programs around here. Can you suggest a way to get started on a singing career?

JAYNE

Dear Jayne: The most rewarding vocal career is singing lullabies. If I knew a quick and sure way to attain success on the hit parade, I'd be wrapped in mink and pouncing a gold typewriter. A few singers achieve overnight success, but for most of them the road is long hard and rocky. Many hard-won careers are pathetically short. The public is fickle and constantly wants new voices.

Unless you have a phenomenally good voice, stick to home. Sing in every possible local affair, church choir, school glee club or community choir, club. Learn to enjoy your talent and give pleasure to those near you. The life of a singer isn't always as glamorous as it seems.

Redlegs Seem to Have Found Themselves

By ED WILKS
Of The Associated Press

Yonnu have to figure Birdie Tabbets finally got around to smiling at himself in the mirror when he shaved this morning.

It's been a tough first week of the season for the chubby Cincinnati manager what with his Redlegs, loaded with pennant potential and power, losing their first four games; Ted Kluszewski benched with a bad back; Frank Robinson coming up with a new sore arm; Johnny Temple giving in to a sore throat; and his pinch hitters delivering only three times in 15 at bats.

But things looked great today. The Redlegs have won three in a row.

They got their third last night, piling up seven runs in the fifth inning with one hit and the walks for a 9-5 decision over the Chicago Cubs.

The nine walks set a National League record, finally disposing of a 47-year-old lapse by the Redlegs themselves. They set the old mark by granting St. Louis eight walks in one inning back in 1910.

The victory left Cincinnati three games back of the cinders — Milwaukee and Brooklyn. The Braves kept the pace with a four-home run job that beat the St. Louis Cardinals 8-7 and the Dodgers made the most of five hits to beat the New York Giants 4-3.

Philadelphia also grabbed a seven-run inning while defeating Pittsburgh 8-5 in the other NL game.

In the American, the New York Yankees beat Baltimore 3-2; Kansas City belted Cleveland with five home runs for a 17-6 breeze; and Boston nudged Washington 4-3 in 10 innings.

The Redlegs took their record walks from loser Moe Drabowski. Jackie Collum and Jim Brosnan to overhaul a 2-1 lead. Bob Thurman, subbing for Robinson, homered but it was the Cubs who showed the power with three homers.

Del Crandall put the Braves over the hump with his solo home run in the ninth off losing reliever Willard Schmidt. Milwaukee twice had scrambled from behind, scoring every run on homers — Joe Adcock's second of the years and three run snacks by Eddie Mathews and Hank Aaron.

Del Enis helped build the early lead off Ray Crone with a two-run homer, but Herm Wehmeier couldn't hold it.

The Dodgers had all sorts of troubles with the Giants, but piled up three hits, a walk, sacrifice fly, error and passed ball to score all four runs in the fourth and chase rookie Curt Barclay to his second defeat.

Rookie Bob Bowman hit a two-run homer and rookie Ed Bouchee added a three-run triple in the Phillies' big sixth that bat Bob Friend, who had given just two bits for the first five frames.

Mickey Mantle's second home run of the year did the job in the eighth for reliever Bob Grim of the Yankees after Art Ditmar, in his first start as a Yankee, failed to hold on to the 2-0 lead Yogi Berra's homer supplied in the first inning.

Hector Lopez walloped a pair of home runs and drove in six runs for the A's, who got rid of Bob Lemon early in winning their third in a row.

Ted Williams' third home run of the season gave the Red Sox a 3-all tie in the eighth, and a single by Jackie Jensen, following Billy Klaus' double, bagged it in the 10th.

Derby Hopeful Seeks to Build Up Prestige

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Half a dozen sophomore colts sought today to build Kentucky Derby prestige in the Blue Grass Stakes, burying ground of many Derby ambitions.

The $25,000-a-added, 1 mile test at Keeneland offered the colts one of their final opportunities to set ready for the big race at Louisville a week from Saturday.

But, riding with them was the jinx that only two Blue Grass winners — Rubbling Iver in 1928 and Shut Out in 1942 — have ever won the Derby.

Sentiment leaned toward Round Table, Shan Pas and One-eyed King as the trio most likely to graduate from today's prep to the Derby. The rest of the lineup included Manteau, Lucky Dip and Breezy Night, the latter a non-winner this year and surprise entrant.

Round Table, the Oklahoma-owned, Kentucky bred son of Princequillo, drew the full Derby impost of 128 pounds. Rubbling Iver carried that weight when he won the Blue Grass and Faultless toted the same poundage in 1947 — the other Blue Grass winners since Rubbling Iver carrying only 121 or 122.

Blue Grass allowance conditions permitted Round Table's rivals to come in at 121 pounds — a non-winner of a stake.

The lineup of six offered a gross purse of $31,000 with $19,800 awaiting the winner.

George Kell Nears His 2,000th Hit

NEW YORK (AP) — Day by day George Kell climbs steadily toward his lifetime goal of 2,000 hit in a brilliant American League career. At the latest count he was 28 hits short.

"It will mean a lot of me," said the veteran Baltimore infielder, who alternates between first base and his old third base job this spring. "Last winter I thought about retiring to the farm (in Swift, Ark.) but I decided to give it one more whirl at least to get those 2,000 hits. They tell me I'll be the 100th player to do it, if I get that far."

Although Kell at 33 hasn't long to go in the majors, he is a cinch to hit the 2,000 mark within a month. Three yesterday brought his total to 1,972.

Manager Paul Richards had Kell back on third yesterday, playing Bob Boyd at first against a right-handed pitcher. However, he has played first a great deal to give Richards a good look at Brooks Robinson, his rookie third baseman.

"I like it at first base," he said. "It's easier on me and could extend my career. You don't have to make the long throw and you don't have to field so many ground balls."

Rain Fails to Halt Razorbacks
FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. — Rain could not stop the Arkansas Razorbacks in their spring football practice workout here yesterday.

The skies opened up shortly after a scrimmage got under way but three Red teams two White squads and two "green-shirt" teams finished their 25-minute stint.

Earlier, Coach Jack Mitchell staged tackling drills for linemen and also gave them some work on defensive fundamentals and offense.

Gomes Kayoes Rogers in the Ninth Round

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — Featherweight Harold Gomes, a clever boxer with a hefty punch in both hands, looked around for "more work" today after posting his 11th straight victory and 20th knockout in 42 pro bouts.

Gomes returned to the ring after five months' voluntary idleness and knocked out game Bobby Rogers of Chicago in the ninth round of a scheduled 10-rounder.

"I hope it will get me some good shots," the 23-year-old New England featherweight champion said.

Gomes, who at 129 1/2 weighed a quarter pound less than Rogers, had to much power and experience for the young Air Force veteran with only 15 previous pro bouts.

The New Englander floored Rogers for compulsory eight-counts in the first and fourth rounds and rocked him on several other occasions. The end came at 1:54 of the ninth.

A downpour halted play after the doubles had begun but both coaches had agreed that if rain came, the team ahead would be declared winner.

A LONELY WALK

THE STORY: No one, not even the police, wanted the death of Anna Maria Pericoloso reopened, but Milo March, insurance investigator, is digging in, more convinced than ever that the girl was murdered. In an interview with the police, he is told that Detective Piero Roccia investigated the death.

CHAPTER IV

The interview was over. I stood up and smiled again. He was still being polite but it was a strain. "The case is closed. I am sorry if this means your company will have to pay out money, but then that is the business they are in, is it not?"

"More or less," I admitted. "But sometimes it seems to me that a lot of people are in the business of paying out money — for one person or another."

He got what I meant. His face got darker and his lips tightened. But that was the only sign he made. "When do you leave Rome, Signor March?" he asked politely.

"I don't know," I said. "To tell you the truth, I rather like Rome. I may even go down to Ostia and try the bathing — for my health, of course."

"Signor March," he said and the politeness was gone from his voice. "The case is closed. The Italian police, unlike the police in your country, do not welcome the ideas of every amateur who thinks he knows something. As a friend, I suggest that you see the tourist sights of Rome and then go quietly home."

I was beginning to get annoyed. "I've seen the sights of Rome," I told him quietly. "I saw them during the war — over the sights of a gun."

I turned and left. As I went through the door, he was picking up the telephone.

Leaving, I had to go through a room where there were a number of men whom I guessed to be detectives. There's something about detectives in any country that always gives them away. Maybe it's the fact that they wear suits as if they were costumed for a masked ball. One of the men was putting down the phone as I came into the room. From the way he looked up at me, I had a hunch that the phone call had been about me. From the man I'd just left.

I walked up to the group of men. "Piero Roccia around?" I asked.

It was the man who had been on the phone who answered me. "No," he said. "Can I do something for you, signor?"

"No, I said cheerfully. "I wanted to see Piero. My name is Milo March."

"Your business with him, signor?"

"No business. I just remembered that I might know a cousin of his in Brooklyn. I'm staying at the Bernini Hotel, if he's interested." I went on without waiting for an answer.

Out on Via Milana I stopped and looked around. I was still standing there when a small, dark man came out of the Ministry building. He was thin and wiry, looking a little like the way George Raff did when he was young. "Avanti Caffè, two blocks from here," he said as he went by. He walked on down the street without looking back.

I waited a few minutes, then hailed a cab. I told the driver where I wanted to go. I let him know that I was aware that it was only two blocks so he wouldn't waste time going by the way of the Vatican. This way it would look better if anyone was watching.

The cab stopped in front of the cafe. I paid the driver and got out. The small dark man was sitting at a table in the corner, apparently reading a paper he had taken from the rack.

"Sit down," he said. He looked at me with black expressionless eyes. "I'm Piero Roccia."

"Milo March," I said. We shook hands. "You were in the room when I asked for you?"

He nodded. "I have taken the liberty of ordering coffee for both of us."

A waiter came with a pot of coffee and cups.

The detective folded the newspaper and put it aside. He poured coffee for both of us.

"You are interested in the death

What Some Famous Folks Are Saying

AMMAN, Jordan — U.S. Army Col. James Sweetney on charges by an expatriate Jordanian Army official that a "Colonel Swinney" of the U.S. Embassy was implicated in the Jordan crisis.

"I hope they learn to spell my name right if they're going to continue implicating me."

HOLLYWOOD — Eddie Cantor on receiving a Social Security payment for himself and his wife, Ida, which they will donate to a boys' camp.

"We are delighted to receive the money from our government—not as a charity but as an insured right."

CHICAGO — Adlai Stevenson in saying that President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles are coming around to his way of thinking on the bombing of hydrogen bomb tests.

"It looks like the President and his advisers are beginning to see the light."

LONDON — "Pulverised coal" inventor John Bridal, 26, on charges he held Marjorie Jordan, 28, prisoner for 14 weeks in a cellar to help with his invention: "For the first few days, she wanted to go home and I kept her there against her will, but she seemed quite content afterwards."

of Anna Maria Pericoloso?"

I was surprised. "How did you know that's what I was interested in? I didn't mention it when I asked for you."

"And I have no cousins in Brooklyn," he answered with a smile. "I was in an office earlier this morning where a call was received. The message was the an American named Milo March would be in to ask about the Pericoloso case."

"Who called?" I asked.

"I was not told."

"Do you know Johnny For-ness?"

"I knew him."

"Could it have been he?"

"It could have been," he said slowly. "But I cannot say it was."

"When I stopped to ask for you," I said, "the man who answered me had just been told to keep me from seeing you, hadn't he?"

He nodded.

"Very interesting," I said. "You know, when I left New York yesterday only one man in Rome knew that I was coming. He swears that he told no one. Even he did not know where I would be staying. But I was barely in my hotel before I received a call suggesting that I'd better forget my reason for coming here."

Somebody calls the police and warns them I'll be there. Then the police tell me it might be healthier to go back to New York. What is even odder is that the police tells me that the detective who worked on the case in which I'm interested — named Piero Roccia — is not on duty when in fact he is."

done in these situations if one will drop the spurious politeness one doesn't feel anyhow, and give a really honest answer.

You might reply: "Sure I remember you but, man, how you've changed. What did it do to you—the war, your job, or your wife?"

Or "I remember you like I do the measles—in a spotty way."

Or, "Your face is familiar, but weren't you wearing a number the last time I saw you?"

Or, "Sure, I remember you. You didn't fool me. Now take off your mask."

To the lady who wants to bet you can't recall her name, you simply murmur: "I'm afraid I can't be sure. But aren't you one of the Smith girls—the one who married the Abominable Snowman?"

Or, "Your name Gee, Mifs, it's your frame that really haunts me. It's come a long way since the old days, hasn't it? All things considered, I mean."

Or, laughing gaily, "Well I must confess you had me for a minute Mrs. Dracula. By the way, what is your first name?"

The pests you direct such answers to may be a bit taken back. But the odds are the other long-suffering guests will break out in applause.

Burglary on Increase in Arkansas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansas cities reported big increases in burglaries, larcenies and auto thefts in 1956 as compared with 1955, the Federal Bureau of Investigation reported today.

There also were increases in the crime categories of murder and nonnegligent manslaughter, robbery and aggravated assault while declines were shown in negligent manslaughter and rape.

The FBI figures were based on reports submitted by police from 22 Arkansas cities having a total population of 357,359.

As shown in the report the cities reported a total of 6,234 offenses in 1956, compared with 4,857 in 1955.

The number of offenses in the various crime categories, as reported by the Arkansas cities for the two years include:

Murder and nonnegligent manslaughter — 31 in 1956 and 28 in 1955; negligent manslaughter 15 and 18; rape 24 and 32; robbery 169 and 147; aggravated assault 452 and 343; burglary 1,503 and 1,231; larceny 3,553 and 4,686; auto theft 487 and 354.

Nationally the FBI reported, urban crime increased 2.7 per cent to a new record high. It also reported a 17.3 per cent increase in the arrests of young people under 18 in the cities during 1956.

The report listed offenses as reported in 1956 from police in four Arkansas cities with a population over 25,000. Included were these:

Fort Smith — Murder and non-negligent manslaughter 3; robbery 12; aggravated assault 60; burglary 195; larceny 531; auto theft 80.

Hot Springs — Murder and non-negligent manslaughter 7; robbery 2; aggravated assault 0; burglary 104; larceny 285; auto theft 28.

Little Rock — Murder and non-negligent manslaughter 4; robbery 102; aggravated assault 116; burglary 218; larceny 1,800; auto theft 213.

Fine Bluff — Murder and non-negligent manslaughter 6; robbery 17; aggravated assault 39; burglary 171; larceny 120; auto theft 60.

No Clues in Case of Missing Woman

MORATTO, (UP) — The disappearance after the second day of five remained unsolved yesterday after the second day of searching by more than 200 law enforcement officers and volunteers.

Sheriff Cecil Dillahunty said the search party dragged several ponds, searched wooded sections and pumped water from a well without any clue to the disappearance of Mrs. Inez Castel.

State Police Sergeant Milton Mosier of Hope said the woman's description had been broadcast throughout the state on the police radio network.

Mrs. Castel, mother of children ranging in age from seven months to 8 years, had been in ill health for several months, according to her husband. He said she had been worse since the death of her brother in an auto accident.

Castel first noticed his wife was missing Tuesday morning when he awakened and noticed she was not in her bed.

Lopez Sparks Kansas City With Hitting

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Hector Lopez, Kansas City's slender infielder from Panama, is sparking an Athletics invasion of unaccustomed heights among American League sluggers.

The 5-foot, 168-pound Lopez, hitting .344 in eight games, led a 17-6 Kansas City slaughter of Cleveland last night as he drove in six runs.

He made four official trips to the plate to collect two homers, a single and a run scoring sacrifice fly.

It was only a few weeks ago that Lopez said he was going to stop going for the long ball and concentrate on his batting average.

He said his preoccupation with slugging was responsible for his failure to hit consistently in his sophomore season and his .273 average. He hit 18 home runs.

In his rookie year with the A's, Lopez hit .280 and batted .15 home runs.

But apparently he is finding it difficult to stay away from those tempting outside corner pitches to a right hand swinger. He has hit 3 home runs, three doubles and five singles in 28 times at bat.

Teammates Harry Simpson and Lou Skizas have joined Lopez in breaking into the American League's slugging department.

Simpson and Skizas each hit their fourth home runs of the year as the A's scored their lopsided victory over Cleveland.

Simpson and Skizas currently are tied for the league's home run leadership and Lopez is tied for second with three others.

Simpson is third in runs batted in with 9. Skizas and Lopez have sent 8 runs across the plate to share the No. 4 spot with the Indians rookie Roger Maris.

Lopez continues to rate among the best defensive third basemen in the league. He made two putouts last night and one assist. One of his putouts came in the second inning when he leaned way over the railing and practically fell into the stands near third base to catch a pop foul.

Halfway Mark in Spa Fishing Derby

HOT SPRINGS (AP)—Anglers are nearing the halfway mark in the 13-day Hot Springs Amateur Fishing Derby.

Yesterday's catches at Lakes Hamilton, Catherine and Ouachita, with residents listed first and visiting contenders second, were:

Largemouth black bass — Ray Smith of Hot Springs, 6 pounds, 1 ounce; J. E. Burcell of Danville, Ky., 7 pounds 6 1/2 ounces.

Smallmouth bass — L. C. Sears of Mountain Pines 2 pounds, 4 1/2

American Liner Goes Through Canal

SUEZ, Egypt (AP)—The President Jackson, first American flagship to enter the Suez Canal since it was blocked last fall, started through the waterway today from the southern end.

The 9,277-ton American President Line vessel is en route from Karachi with cargo and 12 cruise passengers.

The ship's agents said the $10, 285 toll for movement through the 103-mile canal was paid in U. S. dollars—as required by Egypt's new canal regulations—but underment previously had suggested such procedure for American vessels using the canal.

Only a handful of people were on the canal bank to watch the President Jackson move northward at the head of a four-ship convoy. Reporter and photographers were not permitted to board the vessel.

Mahmoud Metwally, a veteran Egyptian pilot of the nationalized Suez Canal Authority, was assigned to pilot the President Jackson through the tricky curves and currents.

The Great Sphinx in Egypt was carved about 3,500 B. C.

ounce; H. B. Atkinson of Midwest City, Okla., 1 pound, 8 1/2 ounce.

White bass — Mrs. Grace Fowler of Hot Springs, 2 pounds, 7 ounce; Mrs. Earle Odell of Fort Madison, Iowa, 2 pounds, 2 ounce.

Crappie — Jean Rust of Hot Springs, 2 pounds; Gene Pittard of Little Rock 2 pounds, 6 ounce.

Quiz Shows to Continue on Television

By CHARLES MERGER

NEW YORK (AP)—As far as one can discern the shape of next season's television network programming, there are plans to continue all the 17 quiz programs now on the air, give or take one or two.

It's time to ask a question: Where can television quiz programs go from here? What will be the incentives by which they hope to hold their audiences?

More money or more fabulous prizes or more amazing personalities?

There's little satisfaction in discussing the question with quiz program producers. If they have any first-rate new ideas, they naturally keep them secret.

In the area of money, however, they are rapidly bidding themselves to an incredible inflationary peak. One short year ago $64,000 seemed a great deal of money.

Then along came The Big Surprise with $100,000. Now the $64,000 Question offers a contestant the chance of winning $250,000—and never again will those lesser figures seem so impressive.

There is a limit to everything—especially money. And it appears that some of the quiz programs have bid themselves to their limit.

If they cannot offer more money on what basis will they bid for public attention? With more complicated gimmicks of score-keeping? In this area, too, the programs seem to have gone as far as they can. The highly gimmicked programs have not fared as well as their more straightforward cousins. Thus Edgar Bergen's quiz has quit the air.

The programs are left standing approximately where they began—with human personality. They are, by their candid admission, huge casting organizations. By carding and indexing, searching and examining, they seek contestants with whom the vast audience of viewers may fleetingly identify themselves.

It's in this realm of personality that quiz programs will continue to succeed or fail.

Interesting Facts Taken From the Morning Mail

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know is he didn't read his mail:

That houseflies have taste buds in their legs—and that's why they enjoy cakewalking all over our food.

That your fingerhalls grow at the rate of 1 1/2 inches a year, or about 8 feet 9 inches in a biblical lifetime of 70 years.

That bees are color blind, but if they can't see red, why do they get so stinging mad?

That if you want to catch a liar, fasten your gaze just above the bridge of his nose. Most people perspire slightly when telling a lie, and that the easiest place to detect it.

That crooner Bill Hayes, who today earns over $100,000 a year, skipping tunes through his vocal cords, started his career by singing happy birthday messages for Western Union.

That if you have a standard typewriter you can type the word "typewriter" on only one line of the keyboard. You never can tell what they might ask you on a TV quiz program.

That medical statisticians claim a bachelor is three times as likely as a married man to become mentally unbalanced.

That some experts estimate another world war would cost the United States four trillion dollars—on the installment plan, naturally.

That you can be sent to the penitentiary for 10 years in Oregon for illegal possession of a red or black flag; and in Iowa you can be fined $50 for laying a U. S. flag on the ground.

That it takes 60 gallons of water to make a gallon of whisky.

That you'll have a hard time finding a word to rhyme with "film."

That in the town of Azzone, Italy, the citizens are born bald; and stay that way.

That a filling station in Connecticut is owned by John Anglio, whose name, spelled backwards, is "oilgas."

That you can get a free meal in a Michigan restaurant if you can pronounce the owner's name correctly. He is George Pappavlahodimitrakopoulos.

That it was cynical Ambrose Bierce who defined international peace as "A period of cheating between two periods of fighting."

That, he believes, is one reason why three is such widespread interest in standard numbers from listeners of the hour long weekly radio program which he directs Percy Faith's The Best in Music (CVBS radio, Sunday afternoons).

Another reason, Zivato believes, is that the vast majority of radio listeners "get all the currently popular music they can swallow from the numerous disc jockey programs. They turn to us for standard music that they seldom find elsewhere on the air."

He bases his beliefs on a great flood of mail which recently poured in to The Best in Music after the program asked listeners what they would like to hear when Percy Faith and his orchestra celebrate their 100th consecutive weekly broadcast next Sunday afternoon.

The guest artists whom listeners requested are Gisele MacKenzie, Lois Hunt, Earl Wrightson, Liberace and Vaughn Monroe.

"Let's face it," said Zivato, "there also were plenty of requests for people like Perry Como and Nat King Cole but there is a small problem of availability involved. Como happens to have a contract with NBC and Cole is engaged in Las Vegas and was not obtainable."

But in the area of request numbers, the pattern followed that which listeners have sought in the past: musical comedy, operetta and (now hear this) opera. There was not a single request for a rock 'n' roll number.

In that connection Zivato observed that rock 'n' roll has few enthusiasts over the age of 17—and those younger than 17 seldom write letters. In fact, he rightfully feels that few people ever write letters unless they dislike something. Thus it was heartening to receive a huge mail from listeners who said what they liked rather than disliked.

Ground Broken for Arkadelphia Plant

ARKADELPHIA, (AP)—Ground-breaking ceremonies were scheduled here today for a $1,250,000 building to house the Tectum Corp.'s new plant for making building materials.

Gov. Orval Faubus Chairman Winthrop Rockefeller of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission and Mayor Ben Gray were named as principal speakers for the day's ceremonies.

Faubus and Gray were to speak at the groundbreaking and Rockefeller was scheduled to address Tectum officials and other guests at a buffet supper.

Tectum will install about two million dollars worth of equipment in the building, giving the plant a total value of about $1 1/2 million dollars. There hundred workers will be employed.

Music Stirs Memories for Everybody

NEW YORK (AP)—"Music is like smells," says Bruno Zivato Jr. "It stirs memories. They may be happy or unhappy memories, but the association is profound."

Try Springtime in a Buick - It's the dream car to drive

Gay New Colors! Great New Zing! Wonderful Spring-Sale Buys!

See your Buick dealer for a sparkling Spring tonic today

If you're one who goes for spirited performance, you'll find the vivacious 1957 Buick CENTURY speaks a language all your own.

Because, this year, we wanted to bring you even finer performance. Engineered a brand-new V8 engine with the "power-pack" built right in, at no extra cost—and teamed it up with a new version of Variable Pitch Dynaflo* that's instant in response.

Get behind the wheel and you'll understand why we say this 1957 Buick is the dream car to drive.

You sit there with 300 horses at your beck and call, complete control at your finger tips, and the surety of powerful new brakes at your toe touch.

You smooth your way over hills that seem to lose their tops.

You ride relaxed and composed—in creature comfort and supreme command.

But the CENTURY—like all 1957 Buicks—speaks also of fresh, new styling—the look you like, the longer you look. And of new luxury—inside and out. New stretch-out roominess—new solid torque-tube steadiness of travel. New buoyancy of ride, and a glorious new ease of handling.

Come let this magnificent new Buick do its own talking. You'll find it sweet listening—right down to the price-talk.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick built today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.
